Good Evening!

Adenauer wins landslide victory.

Truly an amazing man, the West German chancellor, who at 81 is still able to beat down all opposition to his enlightened philosophy of government.

And the Phillies edge the jittery Braves as the Cards win two from the Pirates and with only two weeks to go, don't bet too much on the outcome of this National League race.

Only two and a half games between Milwaukee and St. Louis. You know, it would be really tough if the Braves should lose out again after being so close to the championship.

Summer giving us a real warm farewell, incidentally.

We going to have this torrid atmosphere right up to the time autumn arrives — next Monday? Doggone weekend a real sizzler as every lawnmower jockey will testify.

Another bad plane crash — this one near New Bedford, Mass., with at least 10 of 24 aboard perishing.

We dunno. Maybe there'll be a day when we won't be reading of these tragedies for which there doesn't appear to be any real excuse.

We do know, however, that the United States Marine Band concert Thursday at Warren Snyder school in Bristol will be one of the most distinguished musical events we've ever had in Lower Bucks County.

Plenty of seats available for all, despite brisk advance ticket sale. General Chairman Gene Nichols says, Okay, make it a date and don't miss this one.

We never learn. A lot of us are already saving our money to go broke with during next summer's vacation.

If you drive, be careful.

Bell Strike Won't Hit LB, Co. Says

A spokesman for the Bell Telephone Company of office in Langhorne said this area will not be hit at all by the strike of 23,800 telephone equipment installers which began today.

The Communications Workers of America and the Western Electric Company workers are out on strike.

Some members of the Western Electric Company are carrying picket signs in front of the Levittown office at Newportville Road but a company spokesman said few persons refused to cross the picket line in sympathy this morning.

With some 10,000 people baking under a "mid-summer sun," the Bucks County Firemen's Association held its annual parade Saturday afternoon at Southampton.

The parade marked the dedication of the Southampton Fire Company's new $115,000 fire hall. Dedication ceremonies were held at the close of the parade.

Nearly 50 fire companies, auxiliary and rescue squad units marched in the parade with about 25 marching bands.

Two marchers, Jo Ann Hall, Delhaas High School Band, and Loreen Keen, Tri-County Band, Feasterville, were overcome by the heat. They were treated at a first aid station operated by the Trevoise Heights Rescue Squad.

Levittown Corps Takes 15th Place

Levittown's Senior Drum and Bugle Corps did the community proud in its first showing at the American Legion National Convention in Atlantic City, N. J., yesterday by finishing 15th in a field of 38.

Frank J. McCormack led the 46 seniors through the parade and drill routine.

The corps was under the guidance of George Gardner, color guard captain.

The Drum and Bugle Corps will also perform tomorrow at the Bristol High School Field between halves of the football game between the Levittown Vets and the Atlantic City Naval Base.

Game time is 8:15 with the corps scheduled to perform about 9:15 p.m.

Guard Stays At Arkansas High School

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UP)—Central High School, the focal point of the hottest desegregation dispute in history, opened for the third week of its fall semester today, still segregated and protected from "violence" by the National Guard.

Gov. Orval Faubus said last night in a TV interview that the troops may be withdrawn by the end of the week. There was no indication exactly when he will withdraw them.

About 25 troops lounged about the front lawn of Central High today when it opened. Mrs. L. C. Bates, president of the Arkansas Chapter of the NAACP, had said that none of the nine Negroes turned back Sept. 4 by National Guardsmen would try to enter today. None did.

Faubus emphasized that the troops would be withdrawn only "under a condition of tranquility and general acceptance by the people" and that he would determine when that condition is met.

The governor, who has stationed troops at the school in defiance of court-ordered integration, said he himself would determine if conditions warranted withdrawal of the militia. Faubus ordered guardsmen to the campus on the first day of school, Sept. 3, to prevent "violence" and "bloodshed."

The governor is under order to appear before Federal Judge Ronald N. Davies Friday to show cause why he should not be enjoined from interfering with integration of the high school. Integration of the previously all-white school was ordered by the Little Rock school board, in accordance with the U.S. Supreme Court's school desegregation decision of May 1954.

Should Faubus fail to withdraw the militia by Friday, the day of the federal court hearing, Judge Davies is expected to issue an injunction, restraining the governor from further thwarting integration. If Faubus defies the injunction, he could be cited for contempt.

Apparently in an effort to avert a head-on state-federal legal collision, the governor flew to New Orleans, La., yesterday. (Continued on Page 3, Col. 3)

Buchanan School Opens

Children file from buses at the entrance of the James Buchanan School, Levittown, which opened today. The opening was delayed 11 days when construction fell behind schedule as the result of a labor dispute. (Courier-Times Photo).

Haines Road School Opens This Morning

The bell at the James Buchanan School, Haines Road, Levittown, rang for the first time this morning to the accompaniment of the banging of hammers and the buzzing of saws.

About 1,000 elementary grade children ended their prolonged vacation and filed into the not quite-finished building. The usual first day confusion was compounded by the presence of construction workers who were installing ceiling in the hallways and working on the all-purpose room and other parts of the building.

The 28-classrooms were just about completed, however. Once school administrators got the children in the right rooms, which was no small job, classroom doors were closed and summer vacation became a thing of the past.

The Big Day

Thursday Concert Date Draws Near

Thursday will be the big musical day for Lower Bucks county.

That's when the world famous United States Marine band will play two thrilling concerts, one in the afternoon and another in the evening.

Both concerts will be presented at the Warren Snyder school in Bristol, and if advance sale of tickets for the occasion is any indication, there should be capacity audiences for both programs.

Rotary Sponsor
The famous musical organization's appearance here is being sponsored by the Bristol Rotary club with proceeds to go to the club's fund for benevolences.

Despite brisk sale of tickets, however, Gene Nichols, general chairman for the affair, emphasized today that tickets will be sold at the door and that because of the large seating capacity of the Snyder school auditorium, everyone will have an opportunity to hear the concerts.

Matinee Show
The matinee performance at 2:30 in the afternoon is primary. (Continued on Page 3, Col. 7)

Three Women Hurt In Crash

Three area women were injured early this morning when their car zipped around a curve, went out of control and crashed through a guard rail.

Officers Frank Gibson, Lyle Gass and George Dascalakis, Falls Township, said the car driven by Jessie Harris, 22 East Richardson Ave., Langhorne, went out of control about 1:30 this morning at Route 13 and Tyburn Road.

The car swerved going around the turn, went through the guard rail and landed on its side in a field.

The Langhorne woman, 21, received a lacerated knee and possible back injuries.

Passengers Carrie Mitchell, 16, of 4358 Lincoln Highway, Oakford, suffered lacerations and bruises and Jessie O'Neill, 55 Court B, Bristol Terrace, suffered an injured back.

All three women were thrown from the car and suffered shock.

Bucks Man Found Dead In Trailer Park

A 45-year-old man was found dead in his trailer Saturday afternoon by two neighbors at Benny's Trailer Park, Route 13, Morrisville.

Coroner Thomas Lamb said the death of George Leffever was a suicide. Leffever was found hanging from a rope in his trailer.

Two neighbors, Mrs. Besda Huntington and Mrs. William Dearhart, discovered the body.

Sgt. Gilbert Custer and Chief Franklin Kirby, Falls Township Police, investigated.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday from the Slack Funeral Home, 117 East Broad St., Burlington, N. J. at 2 p.m. Interment will be in Odd Fellows Cemetery, Burlington. Friends may call Tuesday evening.

Swimmer Slips Away From Boatmen

A Broomall man drowned in the Delaware River at the mouth of the Neshaminy Creek yesterday afternoon despite the frantic rescue attempts of several boatmen.

The victim was Nicholas Perelli, 19, of 63 Sonia Lane, Broomall, a pressman for Parade Magazine.

He was riding on an 18-foot run-about boat owned by Frederick W. Sylvester, 44, of 413 Logan Ave., Croydon. Perelli worked with Sylvester, and came to visit him to return some tools he had borrowed.

While he was in Croydon Sylvester asked him if he wanted to go for a ride in the boat. Four men, Sylvester, Perelli, Sylvester's son, Albert, 20, and Perelli's friend, Robert Russell, 21, of 131 Ardmore Ave., Highland Park, were in the boat.

As the group was coming in from the ride at 1:30 p.m., Perelli said he wanted to take a swim and dived into the water. The boat was about 200 feet off shore in the river near the mouth of the creek.

Calls For Aid

After swimming for a short time he called for a life preserver. A seat cushion was thrown to him but choppy waves washed it away from him. As the other two men tried to throw lines to Perelli, Albert Sylvester brought the boat around in a circle in an attempt to get close to the victim.

Cries of the three men in the boat attracted other boaters in the area. Two unidentified men in an outboard motor boat sped to the scene and one of the men grabbed the thrashing Perelli, but couldn't hold him.

Slips From Grasp

Perelli slipped out of the grasp of the would-be rescuer and the current swept him out of reach. Two other men dived off a boat and tried to swim to the victim, but they were unable to reach him.

When young Sylvester brought the boat around, Perelli was gone.

The Interstate Marine Association was called and dragged the river with grappling hooks. They recovered Perelli's body about 2 p.m. Artificial respiration was administered to the victim for an hour before he was pronounced dead.

Mercury Hits Sizzling 89

With a week left on the calendar, summer refused to budge, missing an all-time heat mark yesterday by three degrees, and similar hot, sticky, uncomfortable weather is expected all week.

The mercury almost blew the top off the thermometer yesterday, surging to 89 at 4 p.m.

Today's forecast is for humid and hot weather with a chance of the 1930 record of 90 degrees falling from the books and a chance of showers tonight.

Tomorrow will be cloudy with a chance of showers but little relief expected from the heat.

This morning's low was 71 at 5 a.m.

Mrs. Robert Roth, 2 Needlepine Lane, Levittown, won second honors in the Community Survey sponsored by the Courier-Times. Mrs. Roth said she and her daughter go through the ads carefully each night and keep up with the latest fashions, furnishings, and grocery prices. The Levittown mother won $25 for second place ad appraisals in the newspaper. (Courier-Times Photo).

Mrs. John Mayer, 217 Playwicki St., Langhorne, is the third place winner in the second round of the Community Survey being conducted throughout Lower Bucks County by the Courier-Times. Winner of the $10 prize money, Mrs. Mayer said, "Ads that hit your eye are my dish." (Courier-Times Photo).

What's Most Important?

Many readers have sent along very fine letters about the questions which have been asked in the Good Will Community Survey that is being conducted to improve "shopping conditions."

"Shopping" begins with the ads.

This week you can be very helpful if you will indicate your idea of the order of importance of the information you want in an ad. (Please see complete details on Page 8 regarding this completely new and different Survey for this week.)

Now you will probably feel that all of this information should be in an ad if possible—but that is not always possible—and we would like to know this week what you as a reader think is most important.

The letters that have been received during the Survey have been most helpful—and—since ads are constantly changing—the ballots showing your choices for the week are a fine guide for the future.

If you have not as yet participated in this program—start right now and help us get "shopping" the way you want it.

Hunters Will Use State Park Areas

HARRISBURG (UP)—Certain areas in selected state parks will be open for hunting during the archery and regular hunting seasons.

The announcement was made by Gov. George M. Leader who said the move was "in the interest of providing more opportunities to our sportsmen for hunting as well as proper management of game resources."

The governor said maps indicating the hunting areas are available upon request to local district foresters, park superintendents, rangers or the Harrisburg office of the Forests and Waters Department.

The state parks are Chapman, Warren County; Big Pocono, Monroe County; Cook Forest, Clarion, Forest and Jefferson; Raccoon Creek, Beaver; Laurel Hill, Som-tracted me most were ads with small amounts of reading matter and large illustrations of the items featured."

"I especially like the food ads with prices listed," she smiled. Mrs. Kolman said she goes through every ad comparing prices. "When I'm looking for a specific thing, I look for the price," she said.

Here Three Years

She, her husband Mark, and sons Arnold, 8, and Kenneth, 6, moved to Levittown three years ago from Philadelphia. Mrs. Kolman is a member of the White-Wood Woman's Club and the Jewish Community Center.

Mrs. Robert Roth said, "My ten-year-old daughter, Karen, and I read each ad pretty carefully. In fact, Karen entered the first week's survey and got me to join with her this time."

As to ad preferences, Mrs. Roth said, "We like them when they're clear to read and the store's name is made to stand out by itself." The housewife and mother said, "Karen and I read all the ads even when we don't intend to buy. We're both interested in the latest styles in clothes, furnishings, and of course, grocery prices," she laughed.

Mrs. Roth is a member of Levittown Fire Co. No. 1's Ladies Auxiliary and has helped out in Girl Scout work. The Roths moved to the North Park section four years ago from Trenton.

Uncluttered Appeal

Langhorne's winning representative, Mrs. John Mayer, said, "I don't like advertisements that are cluttered. I like bold print and don't even bother to read ads with small, jammed up type."

"Ads that hit your eye" were favored by Mrs. Mayer. "Something with variety is the thing for me. There's some that seem to have the same things in them everyday. Those," she said, "I pass right by."

Mrs. Mayer's husband is a Navyman, serving with the Mediterranean Fleet off Turkey. The Mayers moved to Langhorne eight years ago from Olney.

mented by fire police units, was out in strength to supervise the traffic at more than 30 township intersections.

Chief Clarence Heppie, Southampton police, reported that confused orders among the fire police were responsible for stopping motorists from entering two of the township intersections.

Chief Heppie said motorists were stopped by fire police at County Line Rd. and Second Street Pike and Knowles Ave. and Street Road.

According to Heppie, motorists were supposed to be allowed to enter the main section of the community. "All the fire police were supposed to do was to direct 'through traffic' to a five-minute detour route," Heppie said.

Cornwells Fire Co. No. 1 received $150 for the best appearing firemen's company and the Pennridge High School Band won first prize in its division for $100.

Other parade prizes included: Second best appearing fire company (over 40 men); Sellersville Fire Co.

Auto Gets Smashed In Accident Report

A passing Morrisville motorist who pulled to the side of the road to give his version of an accident to a police officer wound up fleeing from a loose trailer.

Harry Wright, 39 Delaware Ave., Morrisville, witnessed an accident Saturday afternoon in which a man was struck while crossing Oxford Valley Road, Falls Township.

Reporting Accident

Wright pulled his car to the side of the road and began to tell Officer Robert Dapp what he had seen about the accident.

Suddenly a trailer without a car started bearing down on the motorist and the police officer.

Both hustled out of the path of the driver-less trailer seconds before it smashed Wright's car.

Neither was injured but the car and trailer were damaged in the crash.

Officer Elliot Bainbridge, Falls Township Police, investigated the runaway trailer crash. The trailer is owned by Jack Bloomberg, 34 Vermillion Way, Vermillion Hill, Levittown.

Vehicle Skids

Bloomberg was preparing to hook the trailer to his car when the vehicle began skidding down the incline.

The accident investigated by Patrolmen Dapp resulted in a Bridgeton, N.J. man suffering bruises to his body after being struck by a car driven by Martha Gate, 66 West 106th St., NYC.

Police said Jerdon Broughman, 48, walked into the automobile after walking out from behind a parked car.

Broughman was taken to Lower Bucks County Hospital by the Bucks County Rescue Squad, treated and later released.

Bell Strike

said that nearly 200 employees of the Windsor exchange, on Newportville road, and the Langhorne office of the telephone company honored the picket lines this morning.

Campbell, who is also president of Local 29 of the union, said the workers have no dispute with the company but were merely honoring the picket lines of the Communication Workers of America who are employed by the Western Electric company.

Picket Lines

The picket lines were put at the local offices since several of the CWA union members are working on projects here.

The Federated Telephone workers represents telephone installers, maintenance men and construction workers employed by the Bell company.

A spokesman for the union said the refusal of the workers to cross the line would have immediate effect on service. But he said no new phones would be installed or no maintenance done. Campbell said that if any emergency service was needed it would be taken care of.

The company spokesman said certain calls to distant points may be hindered if they are called to affected areas. If the calls are made by number, very little disruption of service is expected, he said.

except for the few children who ended up in the wrong class and one or two who were actually in the wrong building.

Buchanan pupils, who come from Levittown as well as Bloomsdale Gardens, Bristol Terrace and other communities on Beaver Dam Road and Green Lane, got an extra 11 days of freedom because the building was not finished on Sept. 5 when the other Bristol Township schools opened.

The work was thrown off schedule as the result of a labor dispute. The Philadelphia Building Trades Council charged that two contractors were not paying union wage scales as required.

Prevailing Rates

The contractors claimed they were paying "prevailing rates." Union men picketed the site for 10 weeks. Work continued at a reduced pace as the union workers refused to cross the line.

The dispute was apparently settled, then flared up again last month. The pickets were withdrawn the second time when the contractors promised to pay union rates. The question of back pay must still be decided.

Falls To Act On Pit Law

The Falls Township Board of Supervisors will consider an ordinance at a public hearing tonight to provide safety measures for the regulation of quarries, excavations, and gravel pits.

Milton Berkes, township secretary, said the session is listed for 8 o'clock at the Falls Township Municipal Building.

Mr. Berkes said the board will probably take a vote on accepting the ordinance following the open discussion.

"If there is no opposition to the approval of the ordinance we will probably accept it tonight."

"Should opposition develop, we will take the ordinance under advisement for further study and further action by the board," the secretary said.

The proposed ordinance is an outgrowth of a demand for safety measures following the drowning of three Levittown children in a gravel pit on the Tullytown-Fallsington Road on July 9.

Myers Case Is Discussed

State Attorney General Thomas D. McBride attended a meeting of representatives of the Bristol township board of commissioners and the Citizens Committee for Levittown in the township building Saturday afternoon.

The Rev. Ray L. Harwick, chairman of the citizens committee, arranged the meeting. Reports of harassment of the Myers family in Levittown were discussed.

Attending the meeting in addition to Mr. McBride and Mr. Harwick were Commissioners Albert H. Rogers, Eugene Kehoe and Harold Lefcourt; Township Solicitor William J. Carlin; and Robert Frederick and Leonard Glusman of the citizens committee.

The Falls Township Board of Supervisors will open bids for painting the white crosswalks in the township at a special meeting tonight.

split wide open like a broken egg. But the death toll was held down by the fact the wreckage did not burn.

Rescuers walked or rode single file over a narrow, winding dirt road, only open access to the swamp, and spread ladders end on end over the bog to gain footing in carrying out the dead, dying and injured.

Floodlights pierced the clammy fog, silhouetting the broken fuselage. It was suspended in trees with the right side of the tail six feet off the ground. The left wing and left tail were sheared off. The left underside was ripped open. The nose was partly buried in mud 50 feet away.

The silver airliner, flight 285, had taken off from Boston's Logan Airport at 5:50 p.m. e.d.t. and had stopped at Hyannis on Cape Cod, and the vacation islands of Nantucket and Martha's Vineyard. The plane was to make a call at New Bedford's Municipal Airport before continuing on to La Guardia Field, New York.

While circling Municipal Airport for a landing, the plane suddenly dropped to the ground, disappearing behind thick trees. So dense were the trees, the wreckage was not found until 11:10 p.m., more than two hours after the crash.

L. Makefield Cubs Plan Exciting Trip

The Cub Scouts of Lower Makefield Township are preparing for an exciting trip next month to historic Fort McHenry in Baltimore and the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md.

Morrisville School Authority To Meet

Morrisville Borough School District Authority will hold a meeting tomorrow evening, September 17, 1957, beginning at 8 o'clock in Summerseat Building, Legion Avenue, Morrisville.

Officials Deny Seepage Runs Into Borough

Lower Makefield Township officials have denied that seepage from their community is running into Morrisville creeks.

At last week's meeting of Morrisville Borough Council it was stated that Morrisville creeks are being filled with seepage coming down from Lower Makefield and Yardley.

To Contact State

Morrisville officials said they would contact state officials for relief on the situation, since the creeks are state owned.

Makefield officials said the charge is completely erroneous because no creeks in Makefield run into Morrisville.

None In Canal

The canal runs into Morrisville but no seepage is poured into it, township officials said.

All Makefield homes use cesspools to dispose of waste while most Morrisville homes are connected into the borough sewer system.

Carrie Gusts Hit Bermuda

HAMILTON, Bermuda (UP)—The first gusts from Hurricane Carrie hit Bermuda early today and the island braced for a powerful punch by the tropical storm packing winds of up to 115 miles an hour.

The U.S. Air Force, Coast Guard and Navy evacuated most of their planes from the Kindley Air Force Base yesterday. The remaining aircraft were staked down and sandbagged.

Carrie, with gale force winds up to 75 miles an hour, extending 200 miles from the center, was bearing down on this British island resort at 13 miles an hour from the east.

The storm's center was expected to travel within 60 miles of here today. Winds of hurricane force, up to 100 miles an hour, were reported extending out 90 miles from the "eye" of the storm.

During the first half year of 1957, The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States made 539 residential mortgage loans amounting to $6,041,000 in Pennsylvania under its Assured Home Ownership Plan, John H. Muller, vice president, announced today.

The Society's half-year activity brought its total of home mortgages outstanding in the state to 8,368 loans at $57,202,000. Under its plan of home mortgage investment, The Equitable cancels the mortgage in the event of the homeowner's death.

Morrisville Fire Touches Off Bullets

Morrisville police and firemen joined forces on Saturday afternoon when fire broke out in the second-floor workroom of a gunsmith at 127 Grove Street.

A neighbor heard shots coming from the home of Henry McCue and called police. Patrolman Joseph DiGiorgio answered the call shortly before 2 p.m. and heard the sound of shots. Fire then burst out through second floor windows.

Firemen from Union and Capital View Companies were called. Several were overcome by smoke and treated on the scene. None were hospitalized.

Fire Chief Rowland Gorton said the fire was confined to the workroom and roof, along with smoke damage throughout the house.

Gorton said the fire apparently started from spontaneous combustion in a pile of oil-soaked rags.

McCue, about 60, was on vacation in Canada when the fire broke out. He left word that in case of an emergency Patrolman Harry Tomlinson, a friend, was to be contacted. Tomlinson was located in the Poconos and arrived in Morrisville late Saturday.

Principal Bears Down On Appearances

OMAHA, Neb. (UP)—A Midwest high school principal today said parents are firmly behind the school's efforts to teach citizenship, starting from the hair down.

That is, all but one family are behind the effort.

The parents of Albert Drake, 16, are defending their son's refusal to part with the curly locks he's worn "since he was a baby."

Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Drake said Al, who was sent home Wednesday and told to have his long locks trimmed, doesn't have to get a haircut if he doesn't want one.

Richard Krebs, principal of Omaha South High School, said publicity of Drake's case has resulted in a flood of calls to his office—all favorable. Parents are praising him for his program to improve citizenship by improving the appearance of the students, he said.

County Has Worst Summer For Fires

This was the worst summer for fires in the history of Bucks County, Fire Marshal Leonard Roberts reported at the annual fall meeting of the Bucks County Firemen's Association.

Roberts remarks were delivered over a tape recorded at the meeting held in Southampton's new fire hall. Roberts was attending the International Convention of Firemen in New Orleans, La.

Bucks County firemen answered 379 fire alarms in the period from the June meeting of the association to the fall meeting.

More than 200 of those fires were grass and woods fires, Roberts said.

Some 200 delegates representing 33 of the 64 volunteer fire companies in Bucks County heard Roberts' statement.

Roberts attributed many of the fires to "carelessness, thoughtlessness and in some cases, deliberate setting."

Losses during this quarterly period have amounted to $442,654, Roberts declared.

Frank Cowell, Morrisville, president of the county association, announced a firemen's school will be held Sept. 29 at the Newportville Fire House. Rain date is Oct. 6.

Grand Jury Recommends Adjusting Guards' Salaries

Adjustments of the salaries of Bucks County prison guards to keep pace with the present-day living costs were recommended by the Grand Jury of the September term of Bucks County Criminal Court.

The Grand Jury report, submitted at the close of last week's session, was signed by the foreman, Crosby Sellick, of Doylestown Township. The jurors recommended that the salaries of the guards be reviewed and then adjusted.

The necessity for a new court house was emphasized by the Grand Juror. But the jurors said that in spite of overcrowded conditions the county officers are "well kept." They recommended that the new court house be air-conditioned and that the electrical outlet in the present court-house be checked for possible overloading.

The Grand Jury had laid before it 106 bills of indictment. Ninety-one true bills were returned and three were ignored. Two bills were withdrawn.

The Neshaminy Manor Home was reported "very well kept," with the occupants apparently happy and contented but the jury recommended better lighting in the men's building.
